Consider this sentences: This is the best ever song that I've heard. This is the best song ever that I've heard. Which of them is correct? How should we combine "best ever" and a ...

Your example already shows how to use "best" as an adverb. It is also a superlative, like "greatest", or "highest", so just as you would use it as an adjective to show that something ...

So, "It is the best ever" means it's the best of all time, up to the present. "It was the best ever" means either it was the best up to that point in time, and a better one may have ...

"Which one is the best" is obviously a question format, so it makes sense that "which one the best is" should be the correct form. This is very good instinct, and you could ...

I mean here "You are the best at tennis" and "you are best at tennis", "choose the book you like the best or best"; both of them can have different meanings but "most" and ...

Either is fine, but (American here) I think "Something that best suits your needs" would be the most common way of saying it.
